USDF Statement on Animal Welfare

The United States Dressage Federation, Inc. (USDF), a federation of over 100 independent organizations throughout the United States with a membership of nearly 30,000 members, supports the concept of ethical treatment of animals.

Dressage is a classical method of training horses, based upon the horse's natural responses, as carried out in a gradual, planned program during which the horse's athletic abilities are improved in a systematic manner. As a result, the horse becomes capable, comfortable, and responsive in partnership with the rider without the use of force. Dressage competition at various levels of achievement is the ultimate test of the training program to determine whether the desired harmony between horse and rider has been achieved.

The rules pertaining to dressage competition prohibit the use of artificial appliances, training aids, and drugs, which would force the horse to submit. Instead, the emphasis is upon training and a cooperative partnership with the rider. Major competitions are carefully monitored to assure that there is no unnecessary force or harshness displayed.

Unlike other horse sports in which horses enter training at a relatively immature state, dressage training is usually not seriously begun until the horse is three or four. The top levels of achievement require five or more years of progressive training and it is not unusual to see horses in international competition in their late teens. This, in itself, places a premium on good care and soundness throughout the horse's life.

While supporting the concept of animal welfare in its broadest form, the United States Dressage Federation, Inc., also recognizes that it is unrealistic to ascribe human emotions and responses to the horse which in its wild state is a creature of flight, living a hard and precarious existence. Under domestication, the horse is assured of ample food, water, and shelter, as well as protection against infectious diseases and damaging parasites, thus leading a longer and healthier life with a high rate of survival.

As an educational organization, USDF has numerous programs, which teach people how to pursue the accepted, humane training methods. A program of certifying instructors also emphasizes protecting the horse's welfare in pursuit of dressage training.

Guide to Dressage

What is Dressage?

The word dressage comes from the French word dresser, to train. To the untrained eye it looks easy, but like many equestrian sports, it serves the needs of a diverse range of horse lovers. It's an Olympic equestrian sport; yet a basic training discipline for the backyard horse. Dressage teaches a horse to be obedient, willing, supple and responsive. The horse freely submits to the rider's lightest "aids" or body signals, while remaining balanced and energetic. The object of dressage is the harmonious development of the horse in both mind and body, and every horse, regardless of its type or use, can benefit from this training.

Dressage principles are a logical, step-by-step progression from simple to increasingly complex movements. More and more is asked of the horse as it becomes mentally and physically ready to respond to these demands. The graceful movements performed in competition may look effortless, but are the result of years of training. The aids should be virtually imperceptible. A squeeze of the calf, a closing of the fingers, a shifting of the rider's weight in the saddle should be all that is necessary to tell the horse what is required.

Dressage requires the horse and rider to combine the strength and agility of gymnastics with the elegance and beauty of ballet. The result is truly the best blend of sport and art. The highlight of a dressage competition is the Musical Freestyle in which the rider creates and choreographs to music an original ride of compulsory figures and movements.

The Arena

A standard arena measures 20 meters by 60 meters (about 65.8 feet x 197.5 feet). Some of the lower level tests may use a small 20 meters by 40 meters arena as does the musical Quadrille (4 riders in a choreographed ride).

Judging the Tests

The tests for each level are written so that there is a way to consistently measure performance. The judges are looking for accuracy of the transitions (changes of gait), obedience, suppleness of the horse, quality of the gaits, and the rider's use of aids.

All movements and certain transitions from one gait to another are numbered on the judge's sheet. They are marked from 0 to 10, 0 being the lowest mark (virtually nothing of the movement performed) and 10 (excellent) the highest. A flawless performance of each movement is seldom achieved. Judges are always excited as they (rarely) give a 10!

Following the test, the rider's individual movement scores are added up and a final score is calculated as a percentage of the possible score that the rider could achieve for that particular test. The highest percentage wins the class.

Musical Rides

The Musical Kür or Freestyle is a ride that is choreographed for the horse and contains required movements while being artistically pleasing and technically correct. Pas de Deux is an artistic program created by two riders to present their horses to their best advantage in an artistic, musical context. Mirror image, point-counter-point and in-line movements can be used. The Quadrille tests are designed for teams of four horses and riders with or without music, depending on the test.

The Advanced Movements

Horses and riders are judged on how well they perform certain movements in tests that match each horse's level of training. These are:

- Extensions: The horse will lengthen his stride for the rider on demand. This movement is most exciting at the trot. When done correctly, the horse seems to float across the arena.
- Lateral movements: The horse will show its suppleness by going forward first and either moving sideways or moving parts of its body sideways for its rider.
- Pirouettes: In this dramatic upper level movement, the horse will turn in place at a canter.
- Flying Changes: The most highly trained horses will appear to "skip" across the arena at a canter switching the leading front and hind hooves.
- Piaffe: This is a highly cadenced trot-in-place. The horse will spring lightly from one diagonal pair of legs to the other with an even rhythm and a definable moment of suspension. It is the highest degree of competitive collection demanded of the horse.
- Passage: The horse appears to float, springing from one diagonal to the other while maintaining its body in a perfectly straight line. In effect this movement is a collected trot in slow motion.

Watching Dressage

The key to enjoying dressage is to watch the rides and try to see how they differ, and why one person's score is better than another's. It takes many years of training and great concentration of both the horse and rider to perform well in a test. You should expect to see calm, obedient, smooth rides where the horse's ears are forward or turned towards the rider, and clearly "listening" to the rider's instructions, although no actual words will be spoken during a test. The horse should look happy.

Spectator Pointers

Riding a dressage test requires a great deal of concentration on the part of the horse and rider. The following guidelines will help to ensure that all riders have the opportunity to achieve their very best performance.

- Avoid running, shouting or sudden movements while a horse is in the ring.
- Applaud only after the rider has completed the final salute.
- You may speak in a normal tone, but do not shout or wave.
- Spectators must stay back from the white fence surrounding the competition arena.
- Before visiting the stabling area, check with the show office.

It is our wish that you enjoy the competition and our hope that this information gives you some understanding of the dedication needed and the intensive work of horse and rider in providing these performances.

ATTENTION COMPETITORS

Each competitor is responsible for supplying management with correct applicable numbers (USDF and USEF) for horse, owner, rider, and trainer, before the day(s) of the competition.

The scores of competitors who fail to supply correct numbers may not be counted toward national awards.

GMHA Rules & Policies

In the interest of safety, health and consideration for all GMHA participants, members and our neighbors please help us by familiarizing yourself and observing the following rules and policies.

MASKS (GMHA & USEF/USDF RULE FOR COVID COMPLIANCE)

Facial covering/masks are required at all times unless mounted on a "horse," or while eating or drinking. Please have them handy to put on when you dismount to lead your horse.

NO SMOKING / NO VAPING POLICY

There is no smoking or vaping of any kind on the GMHA grounds. You may smoke inside your vehicle.

NO FIRE POLICY

No fires anywhere on the grounds – including grills, hibachis, or bonfires.

STALL INFORMATION CARDS

We require all individuals stabling a horse at GMHA to complete in full and post a stall information card. Cards are available from the GMHA office. These cards contain emergency information for your horse's well being!

DOG POLICY

All dogs on GMHA grounds must be leashed, in hand and under control, or confined (crated or kenneled) at all times. Loose dogs may be impounded and offenders fined $30 per occurrence.

NOTE - please do not leave dogs alone back at your stabling area as they may bark and cause a disturbance to those around you.*

TRASH & RECYCLABLES

Please help us keep GMHA looking great! Toss trash in garbage cans provided around the facility. Please take your recyclable paper (shavings bags, cans, bottles, etc. and put in recycling receptacles.

DIRTY STALLS

Those who leave dirty stalls will be billed $50.00. A clean stall is one that has been cleaned of all manure and shavings that can be removed using a manure fork. GMHA provides wheelbarrows, but we do not provide brooms, rakes or forks. Please rake your stall area all the way out to the railing and put manure in designated areas.

STALL STRIPPING SERVICE AVAILABLE

Don't want to worry about stripping your stall at the end of the show? Then have your stall stripped for $25. Please see details outside the show office to sign up.
